Looking to start the New Year with energy and a renewed focus on developing your staff and growing your profits?

If you answered yes, then you don't want to miss this training opportunity! The YWCA Business Savvy Saturday event will help childcare providers, centers and homes get valuable new information and inspiration to help maximize talent and resources from leading training and business experts. From people development to taxes and contracts we've got you covered on your most pressing business needs! Participants will have the amazing opportunity to hear from the internationally known author of "Child Care Business Success!", Julie Bartkus, as well as, back by popular demand nationally awarded trainer Eric Rowels who presented at YWCA's Educators Conference. This event promises to be packed full of information, fun, and inspiration!

(Julie Bartkus will be doing a book signing on site.)
